Russ Repulse Nazi Attacks

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(CP)—Parachute troops of the Red army billowed down behind the German lines in the Mozhaisk sector today to join guerrilla bands for rearward assaults co-ordinated with fierce pressure on the front and flanks by Red army land forces bent on wiping out that salient, according to advices reaching London.

Earlier bitter but fruitless German counterattacks, repulsed by picked divisions from the 100,000-man German army marshalled at the tip of the Mozhaisk salient, were indicated by the Soviet dispatch of the Russian army newspaper Red Star said "Soviet units, having broken through German lines in the sector of the central Moscow front, are relentlessly pressing the enemy and widening the breach." It acknowledged furious counter assaults.

The German newspaper claimed yesterday more than 1,000 Russians were killed, and "an important locality" on the central sector was occupied, in an attack by a German Waffen-Infantry Division.

Paraphrasing the same account, Red Star said: "One of our units had to withstand two counter attacks in two hours. Each attack was made by a battalion of infantry supported by a group of tanks. The attacks were repulsed. Our men continued their advance over the bodies of the attackers."

Even while emphasis was placed upon the central front developments, Soviet reports told of continued battering of Axis positions from the Crimean, of direct assaults upon defenses of Paganovo, and of heavy fighting around strategic Kunk.

An Editorial Action Now!!

PUBLIC demand for social justice to the old age pensioners has reached the dimensions of a tidal wave and can only be met by prompt action after the opening of Parliament, January 22.

The Alberta Government registered its demand with Ottawa many months ago for an increase in the Old Age Pensions from $20 to $30 per month and the lowering of the age limit from 70 to 65 years.

The Government of British Columbia has followed suit and has demanded an increase in the Old Age Pension from $20 to $30 per month with the age limit reduced from 70 to 65 years.

It is understood that Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario have expressed their sympathy with the plight of their pensioners and their demands for adequate relief but have not yet made formal statements to Ottawa.

The tragic position of old age pensioners in Canada is the most urgent matter that will come before the present session of Parliament with the sole exception of the necessary measures to put Canada on a total war footing.

We can, of course, have no reform of any kind unless Hitler's new order of slavery is crushed for all time.

But prompt action in the matter of these pensions is more than a gesture of justice. It will be symbolic and significant of Canada's entire policy with regard to social justice and social security.

And social security is just as much a part of the war effort, which must always come first, as the manufacture of planes and tanks.

There are two ways of persuading men to fight. The first is to drive them into battle at the point of a bayonet. That is Hitler's way.

The second is to give them a life worth living and a life worth fighting for. That is and must be Canada's way.

The need for social security—unemployment insurance, retirement allowances and health insurance—is graphically displayed by the Dominion Government's statistics. We repeat the figures:

Of all Canadians starting life at 25, after 40 years, 36 percent of them will be dead; one percent will be well-to-do; four percent will live comfortably; five percent will be gainfully employed; 54 percent will be entirely dependent upon relatives and friends.

These figures show why every family in Canada is vitally interested in these reforms in spite of the fact that a few might not be feeling an immediate need for such security—yet.

And the time for action is now—right now!

Claim British Seize 3 Ships

BERLIN, Jan. 17.—(German broadcast recorded by AP)—The Germans claimed today that a British destroyer invaded the waters of the Spanish island of Fernando Poo at midnight Jan. 14 and seized an Italian merchant ship and two German freighters. The Nazis quoted "advices from Madrid" as their authority.

The broadcast was given as a report from Spain quoting Arriba, the Spanish Fascist newspaper.

An Associated Press dispatch from Madrid said Arriba told the reported raid to a Free French destroyer.

LONDON Churchill Flies Home To Britain

LONDON, Jan. 17.—(CP)—Prime Minister Churchill stepped prosaically from a train this afternoon, home from a history-making visit to the United States and Canada, after having flown the Atlantic from Bermuda to Plymouth.

The Prime Minister and four of his chief lieutenants made the long over-water jump from the western hemisphere in the four-engined flying boat "Berwick" of the British Airways, captained by the veteran pilot, Chas. C. Kelly Rogers.

The first to greet the Prime Minister was his wife.

News of his arrival spread swiftly through smoke-filled Downing street, and the cheers of week-end crowds rose in waves to the terminal.

It was expected Mr. Churchill would broadcast a report to the Empire soon, possibly from the Admiralty.

The Prime Minister, looking fit after his long flight, said the party had a comfortable trip and covered 2,387 miles in 18 hours in the flying boat.

HUNT MISSING

His departure from Plymouth was held up about 20 minutes until a large search plane had been sent secret—was found.

The Prime Minister, returning from Washington and his talks with President Roosevelt, stepped ashore at the Blue Diamond mine and he had reached Washington on Dec. 22 after a secret trip from London.

The safe return of the Prime Minister from his history-making trip to the United States and Canada was announced at 10 Downing street.

Wavell Forms Ally Command For Strategy

SOMEWHERE IN JAVA, Jan. 17.—Gen. Archibald Wavell, commander in chief of United Nations forces in the Pacific, has formed an allied command.

The first work has been to establish liaison with the various national elements of the unified command, regarding their obligations and authority. This was necessary to avoid any of the many of the various national elements of the unified command, regarding their obligations and authority.

It was understood that the high officials charged with direct responsibility for the direction of military affairs have succeeded in effecting an understanding and have already started the work of implementing the fundamental plan of the unified command.

The fundamental plan was agreed on at Washington, and the men on the spot, familiar with the problems to be worked out in the war zone, are working on the details.

U.S. Camps Occupied Countries Ask Post-War Right to Name Government They Desire

Copyright, 1942, by the Chicago Daily News and The Edmonton Bulletin
CAIRO, Jan. 17.—Those Italian refugees in the Middle East, who are entreating hopes for democratic rule in their countries in the Allies' new order after the war, are breathing easier following a report that the American government, far from falling for former King Carol's "Free Rumanian" racket, is not going to permit him to promote any phony movements from the United States.

These people hope that something Carol did to regain his throne in the guise of the leader of the "Free Rumanian" is the first indication that the United States and Great Britain intend to see to it that the actual people—not absentee monarchs and politicians—of the German-occupied countries will have a say regarding the type of government they desire after the war.

But there are many democratic-minded Balkanites here—and probably elsewhere—who are still uneasy regarding the official attitude of the British and American governments in the matter. They point out that naturally no exiled government or monarch can truly be representative of the people of German-occupied countries as long as these peoples are muzzled by the Germans.

STATES PREPARED TO CO-OPERATE

Have Seen To Bring Canadian, U.S. Dollars To Parity

Action Now Dependent

On Exchange Situation:

No Obstacles In Path

By NORMAN MACLEOD
British United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—The fiscal authorities of the United States have no interest in serving in maintaining the Canadian dollar at a discount, and would be glad to co-operate at any time in a policy to restore it to parity with the American dollar, treasury officials here declare.

Whether any such action will be taken these officials say depends entirely upon the view of the International Exchange situation taken by Canadian authorities. They declare the possibility of such a move, however, in the growing interest which Ottawa's wartime prices and trade board is taking in increased United States imports as a means of making the dollar a selling policy effective in the dominion.

The hearing was adjourned to Edmonton from Whitecourt, where, more than 80 witnesses, including farmers of the district and retail gasoline and oil dealers, gave evidence.

The case for the crown was presented by J. W. McElwain, K.C., of the former-generally discredited Bibby and Bibby was represented by A. T. McLean, of the Edmonton firm of Field, Brydson and McLean.

Tax Agreements Not Solution To Basic Problems

WINNIPEG, Jan. 17.—(CP)—Premier Bracken said in a statement yesterday that although accepted as part of Manitoba's contribution to the war effort, terms of the agreement announced by Finance Minister Iley are not regarded by the Manitoba Government as a solution to problems this province raised before the Rowell-Road commission on Dominion-Provincial relations.

Mr. Iley, in announcing annual payments to be made to provinces willing to vacate the field of personal income and corporation tax for duration of the war, said that the province raised before the Rowell-Road commission on Dominion-Provincial relations.

When The Allies Attack Japan

The loss of Hong Kong and Manila and the serious threat to Singapore have caused a hasty redefining of the Allied Far Eastern war strategy, catapulting Burma and China squarely into the forefront of the new.

The basic reason for their new importance is simple. Allied forces can "get at" the Japanese only through Burma and China. From 10 months ago, the Japanese have been building up a very real strategic position in the only unprotected supply route—via Africa and the Indian Ocean—from the munitions factories of the U.S. and Britain.

The Japanese appreciate the potential threat. They have withdrawn heavy squadrons of bombers from fighting fronts to blast Bangkok, demonstrating their need to knock out that supply base before the Allies can utilize it fully.

That the United Nations are keenly aware of the necessity for the day comes for full-scale offensive action. Further, Burma is the last of the only unprotected supply route—via Africa and the Indian Ocean—from the munitions factories of the U.S. and Britain.

The greatest threat to Japanese security in the southwest Pacific is the fact that an unobstructed China still exists. Japanese failure could mean the loss of China, which would shut the long flank and supply line to Indo-China. Thailand and the Japs must maintain large forces there now, and face the threat of a combined Allied flank attack. Japan holds the Chinese coastal cities, but General Chiang Kai-shek controls a vast area from his Chungking capital. From 10 months ago, the Japanese have been building up a very real strategic position in the only unprotected supply route—via Africa and the Indian Ocean—from the munitions factories of the U.S. and Britain.

Chiang has a force of 500,000 regulars and 1,200,000 reserves. They are entirely dependent on the Burma-Chungking back door for heavy weapons.

The strategic set-up boils down to the fact that the Allies must defend that Burma-Chungking route to the last drop. If it is lost, Chiang Kai-shek will be forced to retreat to the Japanese "home" islands are within medium bomber range of Chungking.

Prices Control

Medal Ceremony

Producers, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers are co-operating voluntarily in the operation of the War Time Prices and Trade Board's selective pricing policy, and of all the complaints received, only one or two have been out of line, and in one case the merchant had refunded the amount of the overcharge, Walter R. Campbell, regional representative of the War Time Prices and Trade Board, stated an audience of 500 consumers and business men and women at a meeting held Friday evening at the Memorial Hall.

The meeting was arranged by the Retail Section, Edmonton Chamber of Commerce. M. Macdonald, president of the chamber, presided. Capital, labor, management and community are making a wonderful contribution to this great effort. He said that the board is to the women of Canada for the work they were doing in checking basic prices. "These women," stated Mr. Campbell, "are doing a work that would cost millions of dollars if the government had to provide the army of checkers necessary to do the investigation now being carried on by the women."

"BASIC PRICE" By doing this the work of the women of Canada is contributing millions of dollars to Canada's war effort," Mr. Campbell stated. "It is the women, who did 80 per cent of the shopping, were the ideal people to do the checking of commodity prices, but he asked them when making their comparison of prices to see to it that they did not take things that had been sold at "sale prices."

He said that many complaints had been received which when investigated, it was revealed that the price taken was the basic price, a special sale price which had been in operation for one day only, and therefore could not be called the "basic price," which prevailed throughout the "basic price period."

PREVENT INFLATION Mr. Campbell described the price ceiling as "a great and unprecedented experiment. It is a new era, with a new crew, without chart or compass, in one of the greatest storms in the history of human society. Every Canadian is a stakeholder in this experiment, and our heads and all pull together, each willing to bear his own load, we will reach the harbor of stability and security."

The object of the experiment, he said, was to prevent inflation, the greatest enemy of society, which, if unchecked, would ruin the nation. "It has been said," stated Mr. Campbell, "that all of the terrible things that can befall a nation—famine, pestilence, drought or war—the worst of all is inflation."

When inflation comes, it is a rapid rise in prices, followed by strikes for higher wages—then higher prices and more strikes, and then fear and hate replace trust and confidence, followed in many cases by revolution.

WAGES NEVER catch up with prices, the necessities of life become scarcer, comfort and security are missing under inflation, stated Mr. Campbell.

Dealing with the methods to be adopted by the government to stop inflation, Mr. Campbell said, "We shall endeavor to deal fairly with all business men in every stage of inflation, consumer and producer, never losing sight of the consumer's interests. It is not our desire to increase the cost of living, but to prevent it from rising too fast."

"There will be thousands of cases of adjustments, in order to avoid increased production costs, in order to prevent inflation, as he pointed out, manufacturers, wholesalers and retailers to make contact, at once with each other, in order that these adjustments will be made satisfactory to all concerned."

At the conclusion of his address, Mr. Campbell asked several questions by retail merchants in the audience relative to the basic price.

HARLEM HAMMER WINS 27TH STRAIGHT FIGHT

Ray Robinson Scores T.K.O. Over Fritzie Zivic In 10th Round

The Odds Against This Happening Were 543,835 To 1

There were eight dogs in this race and the chances of the dogs finishing in mathematical order are 543,835, according to the figure wolves. Well the dogs finished from 8 back to 1 in order as the camera shows. It happened at Biscayne track where last year eight greyhounds finished 1 to 8 in a race. Above you see Pookie Bee (8) winning, with Highland Roll (7), Duo Tune (6), Wooden Indian (5), Lucky Panther (4), Risky Night (3), Princess Flagler (2), and Harvest Time (1) behind him in mathematical order.

Looking them over

THE age of miracles is not past—at least not in sport. Yesterday at the University of Miami tennis tourney, at Coral Gables, the fans were openly invited to ignore the polite bush-bush tradition of the game and cheer or boo the players to their hearts' content.

Of course the miracle will not be complete and entitled to rank with the first-rate humbuggers of all time until both the cheer and the boo are equally common. But the fans at Coral Gables, the fans of the United States Lawn Tennis Association.

Gardner Mulloy, seventh ranking U.S. tennis player, made the special declaration yesterday at Coral Gables that the fans could give the players the words, just as they do in baseball or boxing.

"We think the change will stimulate interest among the fans," said Mulloy. "After all, there's no reason why a tennis gallery should act like a baseball or boxing crowd. The players will soon get used to the noise and pay no more attention to it than do baseball players."

This lifting of the ban on the voice of the fan is in line with the announced intention of the U.S.L.T.A. to pay less attention to the first ten minutes and more attention to popularizing the game.

Don't Discover the Unwashed Mob

OTHER words, the punch of war and suspension of Davis Cup play has put the tennis community on high alert in the treasury that they are finally conceding to look at the great unwashed mob as a possible source of badly needed revenue.

This silent, ultra polite way of taking your sport has always been a pronounced pain in unpronounceable places. The greatest anti-climax that I ever witnessed in sport was the ripple of polite hand-clapping that greeted a really magnificent hitting performance by Don Bradman, the great Australian cricketer, when he played here some eight or nine years ago.

It is probably the result of being born and raised in the time and easy well where tradition is looked on with suspicion instead of reverence that makes me take this angle. But whatever the reason is, the silent, polite etiquette of golf, tennis and cricket always give me the feeling that the spectators are holding themselves stiffly in check, checking back all natural emotions and being perfectly miserable in doing so, in order to conform to what seems like a silly tradition.

On the other hand there is a virtue, wholesome forthrightness about a wildly whooping baseball or hockey crowd when it is in full swing. The unmitigated enthusiasm awakens you right into the good-deep spirit of the thing. The tensions and drama of the game grow with the volume of the rooting and anguish right out of your little hard shell of personal worries and self-consciousness.

When it's all over and your blood pressure drops back to normal, you feel relaxed and refreshed. The good, honest, primitive emotions of hatred, anger, fear, pride and joy that you ordinarily keep bottled up tightly inside of you have at last worked on their own and your whole system feels better for it.

That is the clearest explanation of the roaring sport mob that I have ever been able to figure out. Recently some psychologist has tagged an impressive scientific name to this phenomenon, but I understand words his explanation is approximately the same as mine.

Under war conditions the average man has more understandable emotions than ever. In fact he is living in the state from the internal pressure. He has a burning desire to yell "No!" and jump from the limb and a craving to kick Mussolini around the entire coast line of North America. He is turned up now a score of things—and there isn't a thing he can do about it. The cheering and booing of some at the arena at a game, when in a way it's mock war, is nothing less than a God-send.

Reds Score In 101 Games

American League Records

Make National's Look Puny

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(CP)—The American Hockey League, a thriving enterprise with 10 clubs operating in 10 United States cities from Rhode Island to Indiana, has a serious fault, insofar as a sports writer is concerned—it's too modest.

For instance, for more than a week the sports pages of Canada and the United States have been filled with news about the creditable feat of the New York Rangers going 78 games without losing a game.

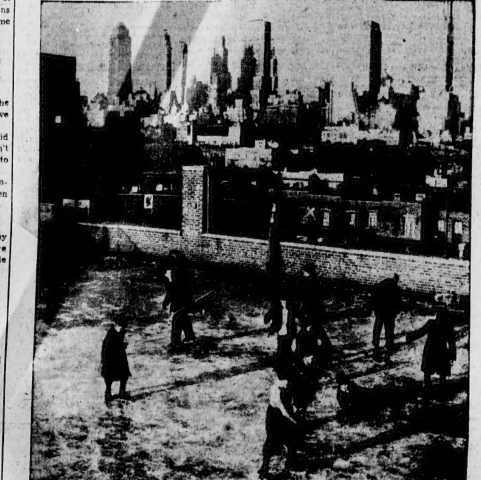

Now 78 games is a National Hockey League record and one that can be proud of, as the Rangers are the only team in the American Hockey League to have won 78 games in a row.

One hundred and one, scoring in every game. More than that, they are trying hard to break their own world record of 100.

Leonard Six Strokes Back Of Byron Nelson

OAKLAND, Calif., Jan. 17.—(AP)—Byron Nelson galloped away from the field Friday in the second round of the 72-hole $5,000 Oakland open golf tournament. The iron shot master from Toklat, O., clubbed another sub-par round from the Sequoyia course and at the 36-hole mark posted a 136 for a four-stroke advantage over his closest rival.

Stan Leonard, Vancouver, B.C., professional, was six strokes off the pace but well up in the first three trailing groups with 142. He was in a group of seven tied at that 72-hole total, while six were tied at 140 and another seven tied at 141. Leonard had rounds of 71-71 to include low scores in the field for today was trimmed to the 90 low scores on Friday.

Nelson tacked 69 on to his opening round 71 to draw away from a field that numbers most of the outstanding players in the United States. He started weakly and finished like a champion, a distinction he has held in the past.

The tournament favorite, until Nelson moved in, was Ben Hogan of Hershey, Pa., who after a solid 68 Thursday, faltered yesterday and came in with a 72.

Tied with Hogan in the 140-class were Lawson Little, San Francisco; Lloyd Mangrum of Monterey Park, Calif.; Donnie Shulte, former PGA and British open champion; Tony Arnold of Dayton, O.; and Ching Shih of San Francisco.

The defending champion, Leonard Dodson of Kansas City, Mo., the going long and turned in a 73 for a two-round total of 145. So Jimmy Demarest and Sam Snead, first ranking men who trailed in the same bracket, Demarest had a 75 and Snead a 72.

The field was trimmed after Friday's round to the 90 low scores on Friday.

Last year's Open Singles Champion, Jean Roegner, is now in the Air Force, so will be unable to defend his title.

Patricia, who took the men's Doubles title last year, teamed with Roegner, Ken, Concert, Cecil Mercer, and Wilf Boyce will provide the strongest opposition.

Fans Boo Referee For Ending Bout

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—Ray Robinson, Harlem's skinny negro slugger with less than two years of professional experience, stopped the veteran Fritzie Zivic in 10 rounds in Madison Square Garden Friday night and with it won a shot at the welterweight championship. Robinson weighed 145½, Zivic 148.

After dropping the experienced former champion with a long overhand right smash late in the ninth round, Ray came back to floor the Pittsburgher with a two-fisted explosion early in the 10th.

Zivic was trying to get to his feet as the count reached six, but for some reason Referee Arthur Donovan decided to call a halt to the proceedings at this point and award the Harlem Hammer a technical knockout triumph at 31 seconds of the 10th. The bout was scheduled to go 12 rounds.

REPERE BOOED A round of boos greeted the abrupt finish to what had been a sizzling, slugger brawl up to that point. The Associated Press, now gave Robinson five of the nine, completed rounds, while Zivic took three and was out.

Fritzie did not appear to be badly hurt when the bout was over. He walked to his corner without help and, once there, was near tears over what was one of the worst times he had been stopped in a 10-year career.

When it was giving Henry Armstrong a lot worse licking a year ago, Zivic had been stopped in the third, although he came back in the fight as quickly. Why do it now?

27TH STRAIGHT WIN For Robinson, it was the 27th straight triumph, the 21st via the K.O. route, in a professional career that began a year ago last fall after he had been beaten and ranked apart for a couple of seasons.

Promoter Mike Jacobs had announced last night's winner a shot at Freddy (The Red) Cochran's welterweight championship. For 20 for the benefit of the fight infirmity paralysis fund, however, Freddy's manager, Willie Glensberg, received a letter from the New York Friday stating that it would be difficult to get the titleholder a requested five-figure fight just now to train for the fight.

For two rounds Robinson simply bludgeoned his opponent. Fritzie with his speed, which was obvious that he couldn't carry that pace for 12 rounds.

In the third round he slowed down. He suffered a cut over his right eye from a long shot. In the second and third rounds several of his blows, although he came back in the 45 seconds of that heat to give Zivic a good going over.

ZIVIC STARTS But in the seventh, young Zivic of Pittsburgh's five finger Zivic had a field day. Three blows to the midsection pinned Robinson. Everything was going along smoothly in the ninth when Robinson dropped Fritzie in his own corner with a right to the head landed hard down in the resin.

Ray came out swinging in the 10th and landed with what was everything he felt to drop Zivic. Exceeding even his own expectations, a total of 15,475 fans contributed to a gross pot of $48,000 to set a new record for a second straight victory over Zivic.

Suggests Night Games Be Doubled

WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—(AP)—President Roosevelt cheered the leaders and fans of organized baseball Friday night with a declaration that he thought the war should not be permitted to black-out the sport.

His statement brought a collective sigh of relief from club owners who have been in doubt over whether they reasonably could go ahead with plans for the 1942 season.

The president, a great fan himself, made it plain that he expressed only his personal point of view. But the leaders of the sport obviously took his remarks to mean that major and minor leagues would be permitted to play out their full schedules.

LETTER TO LANDIS.
Mr. Roosevelt made his opinion known by reading a letter he wrote to Judge Kenesaw M. Landis, head commissioner of baseball. Workers would be putting in longer and harder hours than ever before, the President said, and should have an opportunity for recreation. He calculated that 300 teams would employ 8,000 to 9,000 men, and provide entertainment for 20,000,000 people. And that, he said, is "thoroughly worthwhile."

Mr. Roosevelt said that his suggestion that there be more night games in order that night workers can relax after their day's toil, met with prompt approval.

Donald E. Barnard, head of the financially unsuccessful St. Louis Browns, called it the best news he had heard in a long time. Alva Bradley, president of Cleveland Indians, said that although he had been a leading proponent of the seven-game rule he might be persuaded to change his mind.

Advised of Mr. Roosevelt's letter while vacationing in Florida, Landis said:

"I hope that our performance will be such as to justify the President's faith."

Will Harridge, president of the American League, said Mr. Roosevelt had confirmed "the conviction held by all baseball men that the national pastime has a definite place in the welfare of our country, particularly during times of stress."

Decimated Millers
Tie Regina Ranges
REGINA, Jan. 17.—(CP)—Playing with only eight men Moose Jaw Millers staggered to a 1-1 draw with Regina Rangers in a Saskatchewan Senior Hockey League game before more than 3,000 spectators here Friday night.

With three men injured, Millers lost Hushell Bell through a suspension as a result of a penalty box fight in Moose Jaw Thursday and Coach Art Somers had to juggle his line continuously throughout the game.

Millers scored first on a lightning-like goalmouth pass from Roy McBride to Frankie Dollen. Near the end of the period Grant Bosh drilled home the equalizer after a prolonged Regina power play.

Sports . . . Roundup

BY HIGH FULLERTON JR.
NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—(AP)—The President's bout for baseball and night games was just what the doctor ordered for the Red Sox.

Two things they've been asking are more use of the floodlight and more cash money for opening expenses. . . . Hardly a chance now that the majors will turn down the 14 night games proposed at the Feb. 2 meeting and the chances are the American League will find it easier to get up that $100,000 than to take the risk that one club might fold at this critical stage.

It's good news that the National Hockey League finally is getting around to making a war contribution, but why just one all-star "Red Cross game" . . . seems every city in the league could stage one, just as Boston has planned to do independently next month.

Baseball innovation tried out by Collingwood high school at Collingwood, Ont., was that the league could stage one, just as Boston has planned to do independently next month.

TODAY'S MESSAGE

By REV. NORA S. ELLIOTT

Leader, Unity Centre, Edmonton

The Application of Divine Law

IT is widely understood that individuals are daily practicing their knowledge of metaphysics with the infallible result of healing, happiness and prosperity.

To the Truth student the answer is obvious.

Following the short period that the Master taught in the flesh, mankind has drifted away from the rules of the living which He expounded and demonstrated. As a result the individuals of this glorious world have neither subscribed to His teachings nor advanced them. Suffering is the penalty inevitably paid for disregarding God's Law. As we unknowingly or deliberately turn from God we punish ourselves.

The Scriptural story of the prodigal son depicts how he was degraded to miserable conditions through his riotous living. Lack and unhappiness are the products of mental misapprehensions entertaining the myriad forms of thinking adverse to the Divine pattern.

The prodigal son took his father's bequest into a far country and used it unwisely. He symbolizes of us, as prodigals of our sacred heritage. We are thus indulging in riotous living because it is contrary to the very foundation of righteousness. We are unwisely expending His provision in a far country.

In this world, which is full of misery and sorrow, we seek sustenance in the empty hush of materiality.

However it is unnecessary to remain in this "distant land."

"I will arise and go to my Father." In this realization we return to Him where we are forgiven and enriched as Sons of the Most High. We are restored to our rightful place by spiritual food from the Father's abundance.

During these turbulent days let us constantly remember that God dwells within, that we have only to turn to Him to reclaim our identity as His children, heirs to His Kingdom.

When this is universally done, peace will be re-established, because in reality it has always been. God's world will be replenished with His Good which is ever for us, but which can manifest only through constructive thinking, and by applying that thinking every day, to our lives, and impacting love and forgiveness to our fellowmen.

Chungking Furnishes Excellent Proof That Japanese Forces Cannot Win

Second Lt. Ann Bakalar of Letterman U.S. Army Hospital in San Francisco, poses in new "full-regalia" uniform which now includes gas mask as precaution against gas attack.

The very young help with rebuilding Chungking. This lad is looking for something worth salvaging.

Chungking is one fine proof that the Japanese can't win. Blasted from the air hundreds of times by unopposed bombers, the provisional Chinese capital carries on in a manner to warm democratic hearts. Underground shelters in bomb-proof rock protect the city's half million people. New buildings spring up over the smoldering ruins of bombed ones. An entire new generation trains to run the Japs back into the sea. These pictures by Photographer Harrison Forman, give a vivid portrayal of the heroism that is Chungking.

These men are leaving Chungking's radio station XGOY, underground and safe from bombs.

The Japs bomb Chungking to rubble—and the Chinese put it back better than ever. These are new shops.

Get High Altitude Chill On Ground

Fliers of the Royal Canadian Air Force are shown awaiting their turn to go into one of the refrigeration rooms where their high altitude flying equipment is tested. This cold chamber is capable of creating minus 70 degrees Fahrenheit conditions—about three degrees lower than the temperature at 40,000 feet altitude. Flying togs and mechanical equipment, such as masks, goggles, windshields, etc., are given severe cold tests on the ground before going aloft.

Priorities on raw materials and allocation of processed goods and facilities for industry today rests fairly broadly with the War Industries Control Board which reports to the Munitions and Supply Minister, Hon. C. D. Howe. Members of the board, pictured at their latest meeting are, from left to right—seated, G. C. Bateman, metals controller; George R. Cottrell, oil controller; W. J. Lynch, transit controller; Alan H. Williamson, supplies controller; F. B. Kilbourn, steel controller; R. C. Berkinshaw, chairman of the Board and priorities officer; W. E. Uren, deputy priorities officer; R. T. Wise, deputy machine tools controller; E. R. Birchard, deputy motor vehicle controller; and A. S. Nicholson, lumber controller. Standing: G. K. Piskin, deputy construction controller; Walter T. Patterson, legal branch; G. Blake Jackson, construction controller; W. T. G. Hackett, secretary to the Board; T. C. Lockwood, transport controller, Department of Transport; D. B. Carswell, controller of ship repairs; J. D. Lorimer, chemicals controller; Major L. R. Andrews, deputy timber controller. The Board also includes, J. H. Berry, Motor Vehicle controller; Thomas Arnold, machine tools controller; and H. J. Symington, K.C., power controller.

Taken Up With Their Job

Death Dive—Of A Jap

Riddled by anti-aircraft fire from the U.S. Fleet, a Japanese dive bomber spews flame and smoke as it plunges down into Pearl Harbor for destruction during surprise attack Dec. 7. Tiny dot, far below, appear to be ships plane was attacking. Photo was just released following official report that 20 invading planes were shot down and 12 more heavily damaged by navy gunners alone.

Concentrated into an area little larger than New England are most of the war industries of Japan. They are hard for allied bombers to reach, but once hit are highly vulnerable to mass destruction.

Axis Marks The Spot

During the current British drive into Libya, the Royal Air Force and the Royal Australian Air Force have played hob with German and Italian air power. It was mastery of the air by the Imperials that enabled the ground forces to smash German General Erwin Romel's combined Nazi-Fascist armies in Cyrenaica. At top here is a German Messerschmitt shot down by an Australian fighter plane. Below, the skeleton of an Italian fighter.

WHEN HIS AMAZING X-RAY VISION INFORMED SUPERMAN THAT ONE OF THE LONG LINES OF PERFECTION TRUCKS CARRIED A DEADLY EXPLOSIVE FOR A CARGO, HE REMOVED THE TRUCKS OCCUPANTS TO SAFETY, AND DELIBERATELY DROVE OFF A CLIFF. THE ENRAGING EXPLOSION CAUSED A PAINT OF THE MOUNTAIN TO COLLAPSE UPON HIM, BUT NOW, AS THE ASTOUNDING MAN OF STEEL MAKES USE OF HIS COLossal STRENGTH, THE MARCH OF DEATH GUARDS INTO THE AIR, PEEBING HIM!

REACHING HOWELL IN MINUTES HE REPORTED HIS SUDEN AT ITS DESTINATION, THEN SPRINGS OFF AGAIN...

ONE RABBIT OF MY NIGHT'S WORK FINISHED BUT I'VE STILL TO QUESTION THAT THING WHO TRIED TO STOP THAT GUY ANDREW MORRIS

HOWELL WAREHOUSE

SHORTLY AFTER... AS SUPERMAN ENTERS A HOSPITAL WARD UNANNOUNCED...

I'VE COME BACK TO QUESTION YOU, WHY DID YOU TRY TO SUB OUT MORRIS?

I-TM-STILL WEAK-IF YOU'LL LEAN OVER-ITLL TELL YOU...

GET TOGETHER!

HE RACES ALONG AT 80 SWIFT A PACE, COVERING MILES IN MOMENTS, THAT THEY SWEEP UP INTO THE AIR BEHIND HIS FLEET PRIDE...

WANT-I'VE MORE TO TELL YOU...

I'VE HEARD ABOUT IT!

THIS IS OUTRAGEOUS- YOU'VE GOT TO STOP THAT GUY AT ME

NOT UNTIL I RECEIVE WORD TO STOP THE SHIPMENT IT WAS SAFELY REACHED HOWELL!

THIS IS TOO GOOD A STORY TO DELAY, A TELEPHONE IT WAS SAFELY REACHED MORRIS!

BUT AS LOS LIFTS HIS TELEPHONE, MORRIS GUN DISCHARGES - THE RECEIVER IS SHAMMED OUT OF THE GUN, RECOVERING HAND.

CAREFUL! TAKE HIS GUN AWAY! (DO YOU REALIZE YOU'RE RESPONSIBLE NIGHT MAN, HIT ME?)

DON'T MAKE A FALSE MOVE, OR NEXT TIME I WON'T AIM FOR THE TELEPHONE!

YOU MEAN YOU'D DELEGATE THE ATTEMPT TO DESTROY THE BUS-LESS TRUCKING LINE?
